

WILLIAMS RUNNING MADE FOR BRYAN.

Messachusetts Leader an Open Candidate for Vice-President.

IS OFF FOR EUROPE.

Will See Chairman Jones There
and Discuss the Situation with Him.

George Fred Williams, the Democratic leader of Massachusetts, is on his way to Europe. He sailed Tuesday, shortly after his return from Chicago, where he was an interested student of the events growing out of the meeting of the Democratic National Committee.

Mr. Williams is an open candidate for the nomination for Vice-President. Former Governor Stone, of Missouri, vice-chairman of the National Committee and one of Colonel Bryan's firm friends and supporters,
declared:

"It is my belief that George Fred Williams
will be Colonel Bryan's running mate next year."

Mr. Williams has said that, if the nomination came to him, he would not refuse it.
His friends say he is not waiting for it to come to him; that he is going after it.

It is certain that one of the objects of Mr. Williams's sudden journey abroad is to see and consult with Chairman Jones, of the National Committee.

It is believed that he has a message from Colonel Bryan to Chairman Jones, and that the message is in line with Colonel Bryan's masterful and successful efforts for a united party.

There have been stories that Chairman Jones is to be the side-tracked and that the management of the coming campaign is to be lodged in the hands of Stone.

Mr. Williams, it is said, will assume Chairman Jones that he has the confidence of his party associates and the warm friendship of his fellow workers on the National Committee.

Incidentally, Mr. Williams will discover
how he himself stands in the estimation
of the chairman. That the majority of the National Committee favor Mr. Williams as
the candidate for Vice-President is certain.
The support of Chairman Jones, which, it is thought, will be readily accorded, would make the nomination of Mr. Williams as certain as the renomination of Colonel Bryan.

All signs indicate that the next Democratic ticket will be Bryan and Williams.
Monday near the Democratic Executive Committee of Massachusetts will meet, and
a week later the full committee will assemble and fix a date for the State convention. The principal plank in the State platform will be drafted. One of them will be a blow at trusts. Out of one of these measures may come something of national
interest.

CHARGED WITH BURNING A MONGREL DOG ALIVE.

A Brewery Fireman Says That the Cur
Was Mad and He Only Kicked Him.

Magistrate Lemon, in the Even Street
Police Court, Brooklyn, yesterday held
Christian Dittling, of No. 256 Jefferson
street, in $500 bail on the charge of having burned alive a dog belonging to Frank Gerole, of No. 186 Scholles street, in a brewery furnace.

Dittling is a fireman employed by the Congress Brewing Company, at Humboldt
and Scholles streets, Williamsburg. He defied the charge, and said that the dog had
appeared mad, and in self-defense he had kicked it. It had landed under the firegrate, he said, where it had perished of
heat.

Gerole affirmed that he had ample proof
in contradiction of Dittling's denial. The dog was of mongrel breed, but was a pet
of Gerole's children.

New Jersey News.

Thomas Murphy, a brakeman, was run over by a train at Atlantic City, and lost his right arm.

The Supreme Court has decided that the ordinance in Camden, which keeps under the city's ordinances are illegal.

Thomas Cattano, nineteen years old, killed himself at Cranford, N. J., yesterday. The young man's business has been bad of late.

William Hewall's bicycle got away
from him on a hill near Belvidere, and he has a fractured skull. Hewall is sixty-five years old.

Mrs. Annie Gluck and Arthur Reiser-
ner, who eloped from No. 340 East Houston street,
this city, were found by the woman's husband in Newark yesterday.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

FIREWORKS AND MUSIC ON LAND AND SEA FOR DEWEY.

25,000 School Children
Will Be Massed at Grant's Tomb.

BUILDINGS ILLUMINATED.

Singing Societies Will Render Anthems Composed for the Occasion.

A Dime in the Loving Cup Buys a Bond of Affection.

Invest a dime in the Loving Cup,
and share in this United States
bond of affection.

Only one dime will be accepted
from each contributor.

Address

Journal Dewey Fund,
P. O. Box 1,572.

THE Sub-Committee on Music and Fireworks of the Dewey Reception Committee met yesterday in the City Hall and arranged the outlines of their part of the demonstration.

The display will include grand fireworks
in both rivers from Ward's Island on the east to Grant's Tomb on the west.

There will be fireworks at the City Halls
in all the boroughs and electrical illuminations of the public and other buildings.

The committee is preparing to engage all available bands of music for miles around.
Applications were received from representatives of various singing societies, who wish to participate in the festivities.

Unless the plans are changed, 25,000
school children will be massed at Grant's Tomb when Dewey reaches there and sing patriotic songs.

The Committee on Plan and Scope will go over the route of the parade to-day in Lewis Nixon's yacht.

Incidentally, Mr. Williams will discover
how he himself stands in the estimation
of the chairman. That the majority of the National Committee favor Mr. Williams as
the candidate for Vice-President is certain.
The support of Chairman Jones, which, it
is thought, will be readily accorded, would
make the nomination of Mr. Williams as certain as the renomination of Colonel
Bryan.

All signs indicate that the next Democratic ticket will be Bryan and Williams.
Monday near the Democratic Executive Committee of Massachusetts will meet, and
a week later the full committee will assemble and fix a date for the State convention. The principal plank in the State platform will be drafted. One of them will be a blow at trusts. Out of one of these measures may come something of national
interest.

Magistrate Lemon, in the Even Street
Police Court, Brooklyn, yesterday held
Christian Dittling, of No. 256 Jefferson
street, in $500 bail on the charge of having
burned alive a dog belonging to Frank
Gerole, of No. 186 Scholles street, in a brewery furnace.

Dittling is a fireman employed by the Congress Brewing Company, at Humboldt
and Scholles streets, Williamsburg. He defied the charge, and said that the dog had
appeared mad, and in self-defense he had
kicked it. It had landed under the firegrate, he said, where it had perished of
heat.

Gerole affirmed that he had ample proof
in contradiction of Dittling's denial. The
dog was of mongrel breed, but was a pet
of Gerole's children.

William Hewall's bicycle got away
from him on a hill near Belvidere, and he has a fractured skull. Hewall is sixty-five years old.

Mrs. Annie Gluck and Arthur Reiser-
ner, who eloped from No. 340 East Houston street,
this city, were found by the woman's husband in Newark yesterday.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Postmaster Coggeshall, of Huntley,
found Herman Van Arsdale, a child, in a pond
last night while on his way to Summit, and pulled
the little fellow from the water, saving his life.

Engineer Sherwood admitted at the
meeting of the Newark Board of Street and Water
yesterday that the water from the Oak Ridge
reservoir was not of the best, and that the reser-
voir should be cleaned.

Some Patriotic Contributors of "Dewey Dimes."

HERE'S A CHANCE FOR THE SMITHS, JONESES AND BROWNS.

Send in a Vote and a Dime to the Journal's Dewey Fund and Prove That Your Family
Is the Greatest on Earth.

From a Smith.

Dear Sir—As I see that many of the notable men of the nation are sending their dimes for Dewey's cup, I add my name to the list, and although not notable,
the name (last name) is well known throughout all the United States.

Call on the Smiths, the greatest family in the world, to send a dime each if you want to make a great cup for Dewey.

S. B. SMITH, M. D.

Lawrence, Mass.

From a Jones.

Editor Journal Dewey Cup Fund:

Dear Sir—I must emphatically protest against the assumption of superiority made

for the Smith family by your correspondent,
S. B. Smith, M. D., of Lawrence, Mass.

For centuries the Joneses have been
leaders, not only in point of numbers, but
in every sphere of human effort. You will find their names written on every page of
the world's history.

If you really want to complete the loving
cup ask the Joneses for a dime each.

WILLIAM S. JONES.

144 Cambridge Place, Brooklyn.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

for the Smith family by your correspondent,
S. B. Smith, M. D., of Lawrence, Mass.

For centuries the Joneses have been
leaders, not only in point of numbers, but
in every sphere of human effort. You will
find their names written on every page of
the world's history.

If you really want to complete the loving
cup ask the Joneses for a dime each.

WILLIAM S. JONES.

144 Cambridge Place, Brooklyn.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.

Westerly, R. I.